KELLOGG FOUNDATION NATIONAL FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

The W.K. Kellogg Foundation is soliciting applications for its National Fellowship Program. Awards will be made to exceptional, competent individuals who exhibit "leadership potential in their community, organization, or profession" who are interested in "developing interdisciplinary and cross-cultural perspectives in contemporary human and social problems." If you are interested in this demanding but exciting program, Joyce Jolly has information and forms in her office. Deadline for applications is December 14, 1990.

Martha McCurley is currently a Fellow and can answer any questions you may have about KNFP.

MUSIC FLASH

THE MONDAY MUSIC CONCERT SERIES opened September 10 at 1 p.m. with performances by Miss Melinda Kitchens, Snead State faculty member, and our own Mrs. Pamela Penick. The two pianists performed Schumann's PIANO CONCERTO IN A MINOR. This work is one of the great compositions for piano and orchestra, and according to Syble Coats, "this performance was a welcome break from our daily routine."

On Monday, September 17, Susan Fleming and Amanda Penick will present a preview performance of a concert they are preparing for the University of Alabama where Ms. Fleming is a voice instructor.

NEW FACES

WE welcome Jim Purcell, our new assessment coordinator. He will be working with the Student Services Activity for Title III, and his work will be closely linked to the counseling center.

He received his B.S. degree from Auburn University and his M.Ed from the University of Montevallo. Before coming to Shelton State, Purcell was with the University of Alabama where he was responsible for the demographic analysis of the University's student body.

KUDOS TO CAROLE JOHNSON AND LEE ALBRITTON FOR THE LATEST ISSUE OF THE ECOLOGY CLUB NEWSLETTER. IT WAS VERY INFORMATIVE AND INTERESTING. KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK!

FACULTY NEWS FROM SUMMER

SHARON DECK, a member of the English faculty, attended the Natchez Trace Literary Conference in Natchez, Mississippi. Among the conference presentors were Eudora Welty and Margaret Walker Alexander, author of JUBILEE and the world's foremost authority on the life and works of the black writer Richard Wright. Wright, a native of Natchez, was honored at the conference on the 30th anniversary of his death.....Paula Sue Hayes, director of new Options, enjoyed her annual visit to Chautauqua, New York, where she has spent time over the past five summers. While at Chautauqua, she again taught "Literature and the stages of a woman's life."

PILAND HEADS SGA

PAGE S. PILAND, a graduate of Tuscaloosa County High School, will serve as SGA president. Vice president is Tammie Taylor, a Hale County High School graduate, and Steven Ray Herring from Holt High School will be treasurer.

Piland attends Shelton on an art scholarship and is majoring in art education. He is a Shelton Ambassador and has worked with a number of community organizations including the Childrens Hands On Museum, Bama Theatre productions, and YMCA activities.

According to Piland, one of the goals of the SGA will be to involve more students in the many and varied activities taking place on the campuses of Shelton State this year.

Anyone who is interested in Shelton's SGA program should contact Martha McCurley, 391-2288, or Rick Shelton, 391-2286.

NEW OPTIONS ANNOUNCES FALL PLANS

New Options, a Shelton State program for displaced homemakers and single parents, will kick off its fall activities with an open house and orientation for new members on Thursday, September 13, at 7:30 p.m.

There is no cost for New Options. The program is funded by the state through a $30,330.00 grant. New Options offers participants occupational improvement, educational assistance, and personal guidance. Dr. Paula Burnum Hayes directs New Options. For additional information, contact the New Options office, 391-2383.
